Clare Controls Partners with Canadian Distributor: Simply Controlled

Clare Controls Now Available Through Simply Controlled, a Distribution and Manufacturer Representative Firm in the Consumer and Custom Electronics Industry

Sarasota, FL, September 18, 2017 – Clare Controls is proud to announce Simply Controlled as its Canadian distributor. Simply Controlled will distribute Clare Controls' full line of Smart and Secure products.

"Simply Controlled has been successfully representing Clare for five years. We are now happy to have them as a full line distributor," said Brett Price, President of Clare Controls.

All Simply Controlled dealers now have access to Clare's full line of smart home products ranging from premium surveillance products, including IP cameras and NVR's, to smart thermostats and controllable lighting. Simply Controlled will also offer the CLIQ.Secure kit, which includes a Resolution Products Helix panel and a Clare CLIQ.mini smart home control hub, as well as other Helix platform sensors and translators, and the recently released Clare Video Doorbell. Simply Controlled dealers can now offer residents monitored security and full-featured home automation in one, seamless solution.

"Clare Controls has defined a market category not being serviced in the connected home market," said Jason Simms, President of Simply Controlled. "Simply Controlled sees the value to all dealers, home builders, and end users in this expansive growth channel. After representing Clare Controls in Western Canada for over five years, it was a natural step to progress to distribution to further support Clare and our partners".

Clare offers premium solutions to mainstream consumers; Simply Controlled's reputation as a leader in the residential and commercial entertainment and automation industry will help dealers expand offerings to their customer base with a best-in-class user experience and smart home platform. Clare Controls is now available from Simply Controlled, for more information visit <http://simplycontrolled.ca/>.
